To who it may concern:

I am a former NY firefighter EMT.

I have had clearances from government to work with: United Launch Alliance, Lockheed Martin, and Ball Aerospace. I am a federal security officer for FEMA and was contracted during the Marshall Fire in Boulder county . I have worked for ARAPAHOE/ Adams County for protection in Detention Center, Courthouse, Probation, Family Human Services and Child and Family Services.

I met Jennifer, by signing up to Volunteer for the animal therapy program on her ranch. When I saw an issue with her neighbors being aggressive and giving her problems, I was paid to do executive protection for her and the ranch.

While I was at the ranch, Jen and I became friendly. I met her kids and mom.

They were at the ranch a lot. She was an amazing mom. If we were having a meeting, and the kids needed something, she would stop and tend to her babies. I also had the unpleasant times of being around her husband, Donnie. He was very brass, self absorbed and was very jealous of her success on the ranch.

There was a time I went up to the Bear Mountain house. They had a nanny named Carole. She barley did anything, so I went up to help clean the house.

I cleaned the master bathroom and went underneath Donnie's sink and saw mirror with white powder residue on it(cocaine). Then when I cleaned his man cave, that was opened to the children, I saw disturbing things. He had a fridge that had alcohol in there the children could get a hold of. I also saw Marijuana paraphernalia all over the workbench where the kids have their workbench as well. Also exposed, was at least 10 jars of different types of pot. The children could easily get their hands on the drugs.

I remember Jen telling me about Donnie and his anger. She came to the ranch one day and showed me bruises on her body. She said that Donnie had hit her and he has done it before. I have heard Donnie talk to her, yell at her in an abusive way. He has done this several times. He talked to her like dirt. He was jealous that she had the ranch. He told me she is never at home to take care of me. She is always there. He was never supportive.
